CLINICAL AND LABORATORY REPORT (DEMO, FICTIONAL PATIENT)

Patient Name: Meera Nair | Patient ID: 202 | Age: 58

Sex: Female. Report Date: 2026-09-28. Referring unit: General Medicine OPD.

Primary Diagnosis: Type 2 Diabetes Mellitus with Hypertension and mild asthma

Glucose readings

Glucose | 2026-09-01 | 238 mg/dL

Glucose | 2026-09-05 | 215 mg/dL

Glucose | 2026-09-12 | 192 mg/dL

Glucose | 2026-09-19 | 171 mg/dL

Glucose | 2026-09-24 | 156 mg/dL

Glucose | 2026-09-28 | 148 mg/dL

HbA1c readings

HbA1c | 2026-07-02 | 8.6 %

HbA1c | 2026-08-05 | 8.1 %

HbA1c | 2026-09-28 | 7.8 %

Blood pressure readings (systolic)

Blood Pressure | 2026-09-01 | 158 mmHg

Blood Pressure | 2026-09-12 | 152 mmHg

Blood Pressure | 2026-09-19 | 149 mmHg

Blood Pressure | 2026-09-28 | 146 mmHg

Heart rate readings

Heart Rate | 2026-09-01 | 96 bpm

Heart Rate | 2026-09-12 | 104 bpm

Heart Rate | 2026-09-19 | 110 bpm

Heart Rate | 2026-09-28 | 112 bpm

Cholesterol readings

Total Cholesterol | 2026-07-02 | 238 mg/dL

Total Cholesterol | 2026-08-05 | 226 mg/dL

Total Cholesterol | 2026-09-28 | 219 mg/dL

Current examination (2026-09-28)

Fasting Glucose: 148 mg/dL

HbA1c: 7.8 %

BP: 146/92 mmHg

Heart Rate: 112 bpm

SpO2: 94 %

Weight: 78 kg. Height: 162 cm.

Lipid panel

Total Cholesterol: 219 mg/dL

LDL: 141 mg/dL

HDL: 44 mg/dL

Medications

Metformin 1000mg orally twice daily with meals.

Amlodipine 5mg orally once daily in the morning.

Atorvastatin 20mg orally once daily at night.

Albuterol (SABA) rescue inhaler for wheezing episodes; dose not specified.

Clinical notes

Glucose has fallen steadily since Metformin was increased in early September.

Blood pressure remains above target despite Amlodipine.

Intermittent tachycardia noted after albuterol use.

Renal function: eGFR 78 mL/min, within normal limits.

Mild expiratory wheezing on examination. Peak flow twice daily advised.

Plan and follow-up

Daily glucose self-monitoring. DASH diet and aerobic exercise 150 min/week.

Follow-up in 4 weeks with repeat HbA1c and lipid panel.